

Curate

- Overview
- Access Show Collections
- Access Station Collections

Overview

Curate is a content scheduling and curation tool used to program content across various PBS properties, including browser-based experiences, mobile apps, and OTT devices. Curate provides a simple admin interface that stations and producers can use to program content in advance and target by product. Content is added through collections that are specific to stations and shows.

- View station collections
- View show collections

Content is added to Curate through an administrative dashboard, or console. You must have a PBS account in order to use Curate. If you already have access to the console, start using Curate now.

If you do not have access to the console, please submit a support ticket to request access.

Access Show Collections

(Click the  symbol in the bottom right corner of the video to enlarge)

Your browser does not support the HTML5 video element

Access Station Collections

(Click the  symbol in the bottom right corner of the video to enlarge)

Your browser does not support the HTML5 video element